LIFE SENTENCE

Given Sprouse for Murder of Children

Report is Current That Sprouse Has Made a Confession to Commonwealth's Attorney.

The trial of John Sprouse, charged with the murder of the Cooper children and the burning of the residence occupied by the Cooper family begun in Grayson, to which place the defendants had obtained a change of venue began Monday afternoon, October 24, by the reading of a verdict of guilty, with imprisonment for life in the penitentiary. Sprouse is now in jail at Lexington awaiting the final action of the Court. The jury was out about four hours. There was never, so far as can be learned any doubt in the minds of the jurors of the guilt of Sprouse, the accused. The punishment for the atrocious crime, whether it should be death or life imprisonment was the only question. It is said that one man on the jury was the son of a man who once was one of a jury which tried and found a man guilty of murder and fixed his punishment at death. The condemned was executed, and sometime afterward it was ascertained that beyond doubt the accused was insane at the time he committed the deed for which the law took his life. As the evidence upon which Sprouse was convicted was almost all circumstantial this juror may have thought that if Sprouse was sent up for life he would have a chance if time should ever show him to be innocent.

The trial attracted a great deal of attention and created the most intense interest. All through the trial the court room was packed with people, all eager for every detail and incident of the tragedy which shocked the whole State. Judge J. B.

Hannah was on the bench. Commonwealth's Attorney John M. Waugh, assisted by H. C. Sullivan and M. S. Burns, of this place, conducted the prosecution, while W. D. O'Neal, also of Louisa, assisted by W. D. Perkins and Frank Prather, appeared for the defense.

Two speeches were made for the prosecution and the same number for the defense. Waugh and Sullivan spoke for the Commonwealth, and Prather and O'Neal appealed to the jury for their client. The attorneys for Sprouse did the best they could for so weak a case. All the ingenuity and eloquence expended in the case would not have upset the mere appearance of one witness, Mrs. Charles Cooper, when she took the stand to relate her heart rending experience. Her scarred and seamed face, her form shaken with emotion, her broken recitals, produced a profound sensation and Judge, jury, bar and spectators were moved to tears as she told the story of the awful deed which so cruelly robbed her of her children.

It is not known what steps, if any, will be taken by the defense to save their client from a living death. A prominent lawyer from Ashland, not in the case, heard every word of the testimony, and he declares he never heard a stronger circumstantial case for the State.

Word reached here a day or two ago that Sprouse had made a confession. We have investigated the report fully and find that nothing definite can be learned at present. Sprouse sent for John M. Waugh on Sunday morning and is supposed to have made a confession, but Mr. Waugh refuses to disclose the details of the interview at present.

The Kelleys will be tried week after next.

JOHN WILEY JONES

Passes to the Reward That Awaits the Upright.

John W. Jones was born in the town of Prestonsburg in April 1833. He died in Louisa, Ky., about midnight of Monday October 26, 1908, aged seventy-five years and a few months. His funeral was held in the M. E. Church South on the afternoon of Wednesday, October 28 and at its close his mortal remains were carried to the Jones burial ground where so many of his kindred rest in their last sleep and were there interred. He is survived by six children and one sister, Mrs. Launa Mead, Mrs. Alma Fowler, Mrs. Mary Chapman, all of Mingo county, W. Va., Mrs. Amanda West, of Florida, Mrs. R. A. Stone, and Miss Adie Jones, and Mrs. Emily Medley, the surviving sister, of Catlettsburg. Of these all save Mrs. West were present at the last earthly scene.

Mr. Jones was married twice. His first wife was a sister of the late Judge John M. Rice. She died many years ago. His second marriage was with a daughter of the late Col. William Smith. Her death occurred only a few years since.

It is a sad duty to record the death of a man like John W. Jones, but it is an easy task to speak of him. There is no searching for words and phrases with which to say something, and that something not too little nor too much. Nearly his entire life was passed in Louisa, where his life was an open book and read of all men, and in all these many years there was no stain upon his record, no blot upon his stainless escutcheon. He was a member of the church through whose portals his body was gently borne, and to his laws and creed he was ever faithful and true. He was a Free and Accepted Mason, and his loyalty and devotion to his vows and obligations were notable and in the highest degree worthy of emulation. And when in the alternate cloud and sunshine of that October afternoon his brethren of the mystic tie dropped upon his coffin from the "sprig of acacia," emblem of a fadeless immortality, they paid homage to one who never by word or deed brought reproach upon the Order which he so much loved.

John Jones was a good citizen. This when truthfully said, means much, and in all that good citizenship implies Mr. Jones stood high. He was sober, discreet and industrious and his honesty and personal integrity were of that rugged, unswerving, unflinching type that made his honesty and integrity almost a proverb among his fellowmen. His industry knew no limit. Long after the pulmonary and other physical ills which finally took him from his family and friends had weakened his frame, Mr. Jones continued in useful employments, only leaving them when the inroad of disease made him powerless to longer toil. Tenderly nursed and cared for by children and kin he drew his last breath in peace, knowing that the end was near; that death would end the pain of mortality, and that an unending life of bliss would be his beyond the sky.

Consolidation of Banks.

The Third-Fifth National bank of Cincinnati has taken over the American National of that city, thus making it one of the largest and strongest banks in that city. Monte J. Goble, formerly of Catlettsburg, and who has numerous relations in Louisa, will be the cashier of the new concern. The Third-Fifth-American will have a capital of twenty million dollars.

Altizer-Burchett Co.

The News is informed that this company has bought the stock of the Huntington Candy and Grocery Co. and has retained Mr. Wm. Remmel as its Big Sandy representative. These people are the largest confectioners in Southern and Central West Virginia and constitute a very reliable firm. The Mr. Burchett is Geiger Burchett, a former Louisianian, and a capable business man. The firm deserves success.

W. J. BRYAN

Was Heard at Huntington Thursday by Immense Crowd.

Wm. J. Bryan spoke at Huntington on Thursday of last week to the largest crowd that ever heard a public speech at that place. Quite a number of Kentucky people were present, including several from Louisa. Mr. Bryan's wonderful voice was in good condition and his speech created great enthusiasm.

In referring to the tariff he said in part:

"The republican convention adopted a tariff plank. My friends it was the 'awfullest' plank that you ever saw. Do you know how bad that plank was? I can explain in no better way than to tell you it was so bad that the editor of the Omaha Bee, the leading republican paper of the west mistook it for a part of one of my speeches. (Cheers). Can you imagine anything worse than that? (Cheers). I have been slandered a good deal in the last eighteen years but the worst thing that was ever said about me was said by that editor when he accused me of using the language that was in the republican tariff plank. (Cheers). And yet, I am glad that he made the mistake, for, while it was hard on me, it gave him the chance to tell the truth about that tariff plank. (Cheers). And when he thought he was lambasting the thing I said, he gave the most terrific indictment of the republican platform that I ever read.

There was more truth in that editorial than I had been in that paper before in twenty years.

And the part that he took up and annihilated was not the funniest part of the plank. The sentence before the sentence which he used was even worse. Do you know what that first sentence said? Why, I said that the republican party declares 'unequivocally' for a revision of the tariff to be made immediately after inauguration, or to condense it, the republican party promised 'unequivocally' to revise the tariff 'immediately.' Now that word 'unequivocally' demolishes any man's credit. Why did they put it in there? To distinguish between this new promise and the old one that had not been kept. The republican party promised unequivocally before now it promises 'unequivocally.' Why, it has had eleven years to do this. What is its hurry now? Why, these leaders are down on their knees. They say that if you will let them once more that they will do 'immediately' what they should have done years ago. What is it they promise to do 'immediately.' Why, it is to revise the tariff. And does revision mean reduction. Not necessarily. You may revise it up or you may you may revise it up, down or sideways. Revision has height, depth, latitude and longitude, but it has no certainty.

We say reduction. We tell you where to commence and how to proceed, and they cannot meet our arguments. What do they do? They resort to threats, and from now until election day they will not attempt to persuade you. They will attempt to convince you. They will just try and scare you."

Election Returns.

Nash & Herr have arranged to receive and give out the election returns on next Tuesday night. A stereopticon will be used and the dispatches will be shown promptly on a large canvass stretched on the opposite side of the street from their store. If the weather should be unfavorable the court house will be used. People from the country as well as those in town are invited to be present and enjoy these services.

Shot at Gen Hayes.

A negro went on the wire-path at Glen Hayes last Saturday night, and after a yell or two of "Warfield," he shot four times at William Maynard, with whom he had been quarrelling. It is said that Maynard went toward the "cussed pussen" with a knife, when the negro drew his gun and fired. Maynard is seriously wounded. Bocze.

THREE SCORE YEARS

Of Wedded Life is the Unusual Record of This Venerable Couple.

Those who have seen them require no introduction to the venerable couple who are strikingly pictured in this issue of the News. The couple thus shown are Mr. and Mrs. John Picklesimer, of Louisa.

Mr. Picklesimer was born May 13, 1828, and is therefore, an octogenarian, and there are not very many now living in this city who have reached this advanced age. He was born in a part of Floyd county, Ky., which has since been sliced off to assist in the formation of Johnson county. His aged helpmate was born in Pittsylvania county, Virginia, but she came to Kentucky very many years ago. Sixty years ago, the 21st of last September, being then 18 years of age, she was married to "Uncle John Pickle," then an active young man of 20. Her maiden name was Bayes. Many of her kin live in Johnson county, all respected, well-to-do people.

To this union were born nine children, five of whom are yet living. These and theirs have surely obeyed the scriptural injunction to increase and multiply. This is proven by the existence of 22 grandchildren and 22 great-grandchildren.

Mr. Picklesimer was a Union soldier, serving in the 14th Kentucky Infantry. For disabilities growing out of his service he receives a pension which helps him make the declining years of himself and wife more comfortable. Their comfort is well looked after, however, by their children, having for a long time made their home near Mr. and Mrs. James Picklesimer, of this place.

"Uncle John" must have inherited his martial propensities from his ancestry, for his grandfather fought with the old Colonial army all through the Revolution. Uncle John has and shows with pardonable pride a razor which his grandfather used during those times which tried men's souls—and soles. He also has, what would be a great curiosity to many people of this day a pair of brass candle snuffers. The faculties and health of these old people are excellent. "Uncle John" can't hear quite so well as when he was younger, but in a walking race to Busseyville, his old home, he would leave many a younger man behind. Mr. and Mrs. Picklesimer read the Big Sandy News which it opes they may do for many years to come.

THE ROOSTER

This Year Will be in the Second Column on Kentucky Ballots.

The attention of all Democrats is called to the fact that the Democratic column on the Kentucky ballots this year will occupy second place from the left side. For some time past the rooster headed the first column, but on account of the State having gone Republican last fall the log cabin will have first place. Democrats have been used to voting in the first column and it will be well for them to notice the change and call the attention of their brethren to the change.

Kicked by a Horse.

Little Jesse Peters, aged six years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Breck Peters, of Two Mile, was painfully hurt last Friday afternoon. Some one about the place had been using a young horse, and just as it was turned out near the barn it kicked the boy squarely on the right jaw. It was first thought the jaw had been broken, but the physician who was called found that fortunately the injury was not so bad. The cork on the horse's shoe had, however, cut a jagged hole through the cheek, making a very painful wound. The little fellow is doing well.

State Capital Completed.

The construction of Kentucky's new Capitol building has been finished. Superintendent Flesher, who was placed in charge of the completion of the building when the Capitol commission took it out of the hands of the General Supply and Construction Company, withdrew the last laborer from the building and it stands complete with the exception of the heating and lighting facilities, which will be supplied from the power plant now under construction separately.

Large Sums Distributed.

Superintendent of Public Instruction J. C. Crabbe, will distribute among the teachers of Kentucky, this year nearly $2,600,000, for he has concluded his first payments to the teachers, which is over $460,000 and that sum is only one sixth of the amount that will be distributed. There are additional moneys to come from the dog tax, and other sources that will run the total figure up to the amount named.

The following is the amount distributed in the first payments to Boyd and adjoining counties: Boyd, $2,574.55; Lawrence, $4,405.54; Pike, $7,329.33; Greenup, $3,987.43; Carter, $4,722.27; Elliott, $2,354.24; Johnson, $3,771.46.

S. M. McClure Acquitted.

Word has been received from South Carolina to the effect that Stephen McClure was acquitted when tried for killing a child. The jury reached a decision within two minutes. Our readers will remember that we published the details of this affair some time ago. While acting as an officer a bullet fired at a fleeing criminal struck and killed a little girl.

Mr. McClure is in very poor health and has been advised to go to a more favorable climate. Tuberculosis is the trouble.

Fire at Whitehouse.

At an early hour last Tuesday morning a fire occurred at Whitehouse which entirely consumed a couple of log residences, the property of the Whitehouse Coal Company. One house was occupied by Mrs. Welch and she lost nearly all her furniture and a large quantity of provisions. The other house was used as a residence by a man named Wilson. At one time it looked like the whole town would be burned, but by hard work the loss was confined to the property mentioned.

Invitations are out for a Halloween dance to be given in the large room in the second story of the Pierce building to-morrow night.

Charges Death to Students.

Prof. A. E. Smith, brother of the missing man, principal of the public schools at Hindman, and himself an alumnus of State University, arrived in Lexington and in a statement over his own signature declared point blank that in his opinion, his brother was killed by a party of students who were attempting to haze him, and that they concealed the body. Prof. Smith also declared that there has been no real investigation of his brother's fate, and that the faculty of the university refused to make an investigation soon after his brother's disappearance. He points out that the investigating committee appointed by the faculty have bent their energies toward spreading the impression that the missing man had gone away of his own accord, instead of conducting a bona-fide search for his brother and that the grand jury's investigation was obviously incomplete and superficial.

Negro Killed in Williamson.

Pierce Maynard, a policeman, shot and killed John White, colored, in Williamson Monday night. White was shooting at Maynard with two pistols, one in each hand, when Maynard shot him four times. Maynard was wounded by two bullets, but not seriously. White was instantly killed.

An Appal.

To the voters in the 9th Congressional District, Ky:

Having accepted the nomination for Presidential elector on the Prohibition ticket for this district, I respectfully solicit your support in the approaching election. Yours for God and Home and Humanity. Louis, Ky. L. M. Copley.

FIRST SHIPMENT.

The Louisa Coal Company Makes Delivery Monday.

The Louisa Coal Company shipped out its first consignment of coal last Monday. The shipment consisted of five car loads and it was of superior quality. Everything is working admirably at the mines, and in a very short time mining and shipping will be up to the full capacity of these valuable mines.

Today about 600 tons are mined every twenty four hours. This and all the products of the proper industry are ready for market. The coal is not excelled by any bituminous coal in the bowels of Mother Earth. The News will shortly have more to say of Torchlight and its plant.

Halloween.

Tomorrow marks the ending of the most beautiful season on earth—the American October. The day following is November first and, in accordance with a custom more honored in the breach than in the observance, the last hours of the last of October will be marked in many places by the scenes of malicious mischief and wanton devilry. In the good old times it was the occasion for harmless pranks and innocent fun, but like the sailing of evil entities, it is too often the season and opportunity for doing things which the mischief makers are too cowardly to own.

In honor of Mr. J. W. Jones the public school was dismissed Wednesday afternoon, and under the supervision of their teachers the pupils attended the funeral in a body.

During the trial the defendant carried in her arms a three-months-old infant and enlisted the sympathy of all spectators.

At Upper Blue Lick Springs at Davidson, as the result of a recent excavation, the remains of a large mastodon, bones of deer and skulls of buffaloes were unearthed at a depth of eighteen feet. The excavation, which was made at the point where the sparkling Blue Lick water flows, was for the purpose of increasing the flow of water which had become weakened by the protracted drought and was twenty feet in diameter. The explorers are of the opinion that a much larger mass of bones of pre-historic animals could be found for many yards distant from the springs, as it was the habit of wild animals in olden times to visit the spring in search of salt. The springs together with several thousand acres of land belong to Hon. C. M. Clay, of Bourbon county. The bones of the mastodon, which are of enormous size, are being preserved.

NEW YORK

May Go Democratic.

A New York Paper Admits Election of Democratic Governor Who May Carry Bryan With Him.

The New York Herald has made its usual forecast of the national and State elections in New York State. Its reliable representatives have studied the situation in each and every election district in the Commonwealth. The Herald's estimates and forecasts are the most authoritative known. Year after year they have been sustained by actual results.

The Herald comes to the conclusion that Taft will carry the State but that Chanler, the Democratic nominee for Governor, will defeat Hughes. At the same time, it recognizes the fact that if the drift to Chanler is big enough it may swing the State for Bryan.

"The Democrats appear more united than at any time for years," says the Herald, "and their candidates will probably receive the full party vote. Among the Republicans, on the other hand, there are serious dissensions, and it seems that many, while supporting the national ticket, will vote against the Republican nominee for Governor in the belief that his election would lead to legislative attacks upon what they consider personal liberty."

When a paper like the Herald, noted for its conservatism recognizes even the probability that New York may go for Bryan and expresses the positive belief that it will go for Chanler, it may be taken for granted that the State is getting over into the Democratic Column as fast as it can.

NEGRO HANGED.

Young Negro Who Caused The Race Riot at Springfield Was Hanged Last Friday.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 23.—Having confessed his guilt and with a prayer upon his lips, Joe James, the 19-year-old negro murderer, was hanged today.

James murdered C. A. Ballard, a well known railroad engineer, on the night of July 3 last. This crime was largely responsible for the recent fatal race riot in this city. James came to Springfield from Birmingham, Ala., in June. On the night of July 3 he became intoxicated and wandered into the home of Mr. Ballard.

Entering the bed room of Miss Ballard he seized her hand. The girl screamed. Her father came to her assistance, and drove the negro from the house, followed him to the sidewalk where a fight ensued in which James stabbed Ballard to death. James fled.

Next morning he was discovered by Ballard's two sons asleep in the grass north of the city. The Ballard boys almost beat James to death. Deputies rescued the negro from the crowd which gathered. While James was in jail, the alleged assault by another negro upon Mrs. Earl Hallman took place, and the mob moved on the jail. Joe James and Geo. Richardson, the latter having been suspected of the Hallman assault, but later exonerated, were taken from Springfield to Bloomington in H. T. Loper's automobile, and when the mob learned this there followed the riots which resulted in wrecking Loper's restaurant, burning his automobile, wrecking negro stores and saloons, burning forty homes and the death of five white men and two blacks, the latter having been lynched by the mob, to suppress which Gov. Deneen called 5,000 troops to Springfield.

COMMON ORIGIN OF ALL LIFE.

Biologists of To-day Now Are Inclined to That Belief.

Biologists having failed to prove any case of spontaneous generation, Prof. Svante Arrhenius is attracted by the idea that all life has had a common origin and has spread from the single source to many worlds. The discovery of the pressure of light has added probability to panspermia, which teaches that life germs are conveyed through interstellar space. At the railway speed 37 miles an hour, a body would occupy 150 years in going from the earth to Mars and seven thousand million years in traversing the distance to the nearest fixed star, but with the pressure of radiation as motive power the journeys might be reduced to 20 days and nine thousand years respectively. Even these seem long intervals for germs and spores to survive the dryness, cold and light. Recent investigations indicate, however, that some germs are proof against any cold, that the action of light is oxidation and is absent in a vacuum, that the loss of vitality in the cold of space would be one thousand million times less rapid than at 50 degrees Fahrenheit, and that desiccation would be no greater in millions of years than in one day at 50 degrees. Hence it may be that interstellar space is traversed at enormous speed by living germs that develop life on reaching favorable planets.

BEAR TRAP SET FOR OFFICERS.

Surprise for Deputy Marshals in the Tennessee Mountains.

The gaping jaws of a bear trap is what confronted Deputy United States Marshal John Blankenship, Deputy Marshal George Sharp and others when they made a raid the other night into the mountains of Blount county.

In the posse were the two deputies mentioned and Deputy Revenue Collector J. S. Remine. They left this city and went to the North Carolina line, and there located a distillery alleged to have been owned and operated by "Uncle Sam" Burchfield. It was in the fastness of the mountain, and as the officers were just on the point of leaping from the roof into the little house Messrs. Blankenship and Sharp spied the bear trap, and crawled back.

They were both on the point of leaping down at the same time, and had they done so they would have been instantly caught in the trap. The trap is said to have been one of the largest ever seen in the mountains of East Tennessee.

Burchfield had escaped, but it is said that he will be arrested; but the officers in quest of him will look out in the future for man traps as well as bear traps.—Knoxville Sentinel.

Done and To Do.

"If I ever see again a certain party what was in here the other night, me and him comes to blows," said the waiter in the New York restaurant. "He puts away 35 cents' worth, hands me half a dollar, and says: 'Keep the change.'"

"A 15-cent tip!" I says to myself. "Well, well, things is looking up!" "So I helps him on with his overcoat and bows him out most polite. I hands the half a dollar across the the desk and the boss jingles it on the counter. 'Phony,' he says, 'and you'll have to make good.'"

"Wouldn't that give you a headache? The guy makes me pay for his feed and then cheats me out of the biggest tip I'd got in a week. But never mind. I'll shake it all right. The first half-souse that comes in here for a meal and hands me a bill, out he goes with a phony half dollar in his pants."

Wanted Sport.

Some years ago Jude's was a noted concert hall in Dublin, and late in the evening the fun was generally fast and furious.

A young Englishman, bent on seeing life, went there one evening, but expressed himself disappointed with the slowness of the place to a Hibernian friend he met there.

"Would you really like to see a row?" said Pat.

"Yes," said the Englishman. Pat filled a tumbler with cold water and threw it across the table into his face, saying: "Now hit the man next to you, and we'll have some grand sport."

Cleaner Streets for Berlin.

Any improvement in the methods of street cleaning is a step in the interests of public health, and is therefore of importance to all who are compelled to spend their days in the big cities. A hearty welcome is therefore assured to the new motor cleanser which has just made its appearance in the streets of Berlin. The machine has powerful water jets in front and under its center, while at the back is fitted a rotary brush. As the car proceeds the street is flushed and brushed, being left clean and comparatively dry when it has passed through.—London Graphic.

No Argument Coming on That.

The American Hebrew has this to say about one Samuel Findowitz who brought his 80-year-old father from Europe in the steerage, while he came as second cabin passenger on the same steamer: "It is hardly to be supposed that so despicable a person can be sensitive to public ridicule, yet, both for his own deserts and a horrible example, he should be held up to the contempt of the community."

Can't Miss It

So many ailments are purely nervous affections, that you can hardly miss it if you try Dr. Miles' Nerve. It restores nervous energy—and through its invigorating influence upon the nervous system, the organs are strengthened. The heart action is better; digestion improved, the sluggish condition overcome, and healthy activity re-established.

"Dr. Miles' Nerve is worth its weight in gold to me. I did not know what ailed me. I had a good physician but got no relief. I could not eat, sleep, work, sit or stand. I was nearly crazy. One day I picked up a paper and the first thing that met my eyes was an advertisement of Dr. Miles' Nerve. I concluded to try it and let the doctor go, and I did so. After taking two bottles I could dress myself. Then I began taking Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and now I can work and go out, and have told many the benefit I have received from these remedies and several of them have been cured by it since. I am fifty-nine years old and pretty good yet."

ANNA R. PALMER, Lewistown, Pa.

Dr. Miles' Nerve is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. If it fails, he will refund your money.

How To Gain Flesh

Persons have been known to gain a pound a day by taking an ounce of Scott's Emulsion. It is strange, but it often happens.

Somehow the ounce produces the pound; it seems to start the digestive machinery going properly, so that the patient is able to digest and absorb his ordinary food which he could not do before, and that is the way the gain is made.

A certain amount of flesh is necessary for health; if you have not got it you can get it by taking

On last Saturday William Goings, of Dingess, received an injury which it is believed will result in the loss of his left hand.

Mr. Goings was attempting to extract a loaded shell from his shot gun when the shell exploded and the brass part of the shell was blown through his hand, making a fearful wound.

We noted in our last issue that Otis Riley, formerly a policeman of Williamson, was found guilty of voluntary manslaughter by the jury which tried him. The punishment in this degree is imprisonment from one to five years. The finding of the jury came as a surprise to those who had followed the case, and the verdict was promptly set aside by Judge Leftwich, who fined Mr. Riley $100 and dismissed the case. —Williamson Enterprise.

Elias Hatfield, of Logan, died last Wednesday. The funeral took place Friday at Logan, under the auspices of the Williamson lodge No. 173 I. O. O. F., of which he had been a member for many years. Mr. Hatfield was one of Logan's most respected citizens and has a large circle of friends in Mingo who are grieved to learn of his death. He was an uncompromising Democrat and was always an ardent worker for his party. He is survived by a large family one of his children being Ex-Sheriff Greenway Hatfield of this county. —Williamson Enterprise.

It was in Williamson that Hon. Louis Bennett and W. E. Glascock, Democratic and Republican nominees for Governor met for the first time. When No. 3 pulled into Williamson on Wednesday night of last week one of the first passengers to alight from the Pullman was Hon. Louis Bennett and the first person to whom he was introduced was Hon. W. E. Glascock who made an address in this city the same evening and was leaving upon the same train upon which Mr. Bennett arrived.

Williamson, W. Va., Oct. 29.—Although this district is normally Republican from 1,000 to 2,000 the Republicans have been up against it, so to speak, in getting a candidate to make the race. Senator W. W. Whyte, of McDowell county, was the party nominee for re-election. A Democratic paper in that district published a story of his alleged political deals in his own county, and as a result indictments were brought against him in McDowell county and he resigned as a candidate.

The committee met last week and named Dr. H. D. Hatfield, of McDowell county, but this same paper made charges against his political record and he also tendered his resignation, which the committee today refused to accept. His name will go on the ballot despite his declination. Geo. Strother, of McDowell county, is the Democratic candidate, and his election is predicted.

John Tiller, who several months ago was captured in Lecher county, Ky., and brought to this city and placed in jail to answer a charge of felony, was brought to trial in the Criminal court this week, and after the state had rested its side of the case, it was discovered that the criminal court had no jurisdiction. When the indictment was found against Tiller there was no criminal court in Mingo and by some oversight the indictment against him was never certified from the Circuit court.

Tiller is charged with having stolen a cow from Mrs. Mary Taylor, of Pigeon creek. The fact that the Criminal court had no jurisdiction in the case was not discovered until the prosecution had rested the case. Now it is said Tiller's attorneys will ask for a writ of habeas corpus and the very nice legal question is involved as to whether or not the prisoner can again be placed on trial.

Home Circle Column.

A Column Dedicated to Tired Mothers as They Join the Home Circle.

Consider that your visitors come to see you, not your pantry.

Let the children have a good time—childhood does not last long. Age is incapable of fine enthusiasm of youth.

Unkind words do as much harm as unkind deeds. Many a heart has been wounded beyond cure, many a reputation been sabbed to death, by a few little words.

Fathers and mothers, do not quarrel; at any rate not in the presence of your children. If you must say mean and spiteful things to each other, at least go into a room by yourselves and do not teach your children the unpleasant art of wrangling.

Harvesters, riding plows and cultivators may be found on every farm, but the wash board is about the same kind that our grandmothers used. A good washing machine costs from five to eight dollars, but a wash board can be bought for 25 cents. This kind of economy gives a good many men a chance to look for a second wife.

There is beauty which perishes not. It is such as the angels wear. It forms the washed white robes of the saints. It wreaths the countenance of every doer of good. It adorns every honest face. It shines in the virtuous life. It moulds the hands of charity. It sweetens the voice of sympathy. It sparkles on the brow of wisdom. It flashes in the eye of love. It breathes in the spirit of piety. It is the beauty of the heaven of heavens. It is that which may grow by the hand of culture in every human soul. It is the flower of the spirit which blossoms on the tree of life.

HOME.

Our nature demands home. It is the first essential element of our social being. This cannot be complete without the home relations; there would be no proper equilibrium of life and character without the home influence. The heart when bereaved and disappointed naturally turns for refuge to home life and sympathy. No spot is so attractive to the weary one; it is the heart's moral oasis. There is a mother's watchful love and a father's sustaining influence; there is a husband's protection and a wife's tender sympathy; there is the circle of loving brothers and sisters, happy in each other's love. Oh, what is life without these? A desolation, a painful, gloomy pilgrimage "through desert heaths and barren sands."

THE GOOD HOUSEWIFE.

You look at the housewife who has a place for her things, and these things in their places and you find a woman who is systematic in her work; and when she needs anything she can put her hands on it in a moment. She plans and calculates whenever there is to be extra work, extra cooking, extra washing, etc., and she knows beforehand just what there is to do, and what she wants to do it with. Her work moves along like clockwork, and when the clock strikes twelve she is ready to put the victuals on the table. The men are not hindered—they eat their dinner and get out of the way, and her work goes on according to programme, and nobody's time is wasted by her procrastination. She is on time, the glory of her husband, the beloved of her children, the admired of all who know her. And this same woman, so exact in her doings, gets more time to rest and read and instruct her children in the paths of right and the social duties they owe to all. Ladies, we hope you are of this class, receiving the blessings of your husband, and the praise of all who know you.

BOYS AND GIRLS AS COOK.

Young girls and boys learn easily how to cook, and are proud to stir the cake, beat the eggs and whip the frosting, long before the common mother has half the patience to let them do it. Does it try your patience? That is just what a good mother is for. Did they spill the sugar and stir over the cake? They won't do it any more. Don't fret at them. Say never mind, nobody will ever know it but you and me. Then just you tell who made this cake, and who stirred up the bread, and let them feel that you are really helped, and let them brag a little; and if you do not make fun of them, pretty soon somebody will be saying "I can make a cake as good as ma can." How about that pie crust? How many pies did you make before you could make that melting kind you make now? Let your girl make the next crust, and you see to it that she makes a success of it. Here is most of the trouble. You think you can't tell her. You can if you will. Brag up that pie a little and see how glad she is to do your part every time, and she is to make another. But remember that is all she can't do; then don't tell her of that, ever. Let her think she did it most all, and very soon she will do it as good if not as rapidly as you. Don't give her poor stuff to use. Be sure your lard is white and pure, else her pies will not look right. Be sure the baking powder will hold the cake up when it gets up. If you have any poor stuff to use manage that yourself. I know whereof I speak, for I have a girl and two boys, and they can bake, and we are farmers, too. I look after them, stove and all, but they turn out splendid bake stuff. This baking business is getting to be a big problem, and do not let your girl wait until after she is married before she can take potatoes which are not the best, and make them turn out of the kettle mealy and good—Country Life.

Relieve Neuralgia with Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. 25 doses 25 cents.

This recipe is highly recommended by one of our correspondents; try it for dessert tomorrow. Peel five large bananas, rub smooth with five teaspoonfuls of sugar. Add one teaspoonful of cream beaten to a stiff froth, then add one 10c. package of Lemon JELL-O dissolved in one and one-half teaspoonfuls of boiling water. Pour into mold and when cold garnish with candied cherries. Serve with whipped cream, or any good pudding sauce. JELL-O is sold by all Grocers at 10 cent per package.

To quickly check a cold, druggists are dispensing everywhere, a clever Candy Cold Cure Tablet called Preventics. Preventics are also fine for feverish children. Take Preventics at the sneeze stage, to head off all colds. Box of 48—25c. Sold by All Dealers.

Stomach troubles would more quickly disappear if the idea of treating the cause, rather than the effect, would come into practice. A tiny, inside, hidden nerve, says Dr. Shoop, governs and gives strength to the stomach. A branch also goes to the heart, and one to the kidneys. When these "inside nerves" fail, then the organs must fail. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is directed specifically to these failing nerves. Within 48 hours after starting the Restorative treatment patients say the realize a gain. Sold by All Dealers.

Announcements.

ROWLAND B. SPENCER announces himself a candidate for County Clerk of Lawrence county, subject to the action of the Democratic party. Election November 1909.

We are authorized to announce JOHN M. WAUGH as a candidate for Commonwealth's Attorney of the 32nd Judicial District, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

Mr. Taft's peculiar views with reference to Christianity are cutting quite a figure in this campaign.

Gov. Patterson, of Tennessee, is capturing and jailing night riders by the dozen. Gov. Willson, of Kentucky, is punishing the night riders of this State by making speeches about them.

We have noticed somewhere that Hon. James N. Kehoe is accused of being a "Night Rider." Wonder why Gov. Willson doesn't send a regiment of his militia to Maysville and capture him? The Governor makes a noise like he would eat 'em alive if he could only locate a few. Is it possible that Mr. Willson questions the reliability of those who charge Jim Kehoe with being a "Night Rider?" Very likely. The word of the professional slanderer is not to be regarded seriously.

We have not heard of any farmers who are very angry with James N. Kehoe because he was instrumental in raising the price of tobacco. His services may be needed in releasing other farm products from the clutches of the trust at some future time. It is reported that experiments have proved that corn stalks will make excellent qualities of paper. The giant paper trust will be figuring on this new proposition right away, no doubt. Farmers, you need James N. Kehoe in Congress.

Do you believe it is right for Congress to enact laws that will make citizens of the United States pay a great deal more for sewing machines, watches, mowing machines, etc., than the same identical articles are sold for in all other countries of the world? This is exactly the effect of our high tariff laws. The manufacturers of this country are the favorites of this government. They supply the wants of the consumers here at high prices and ship all the goods they can supply to foreign markets at half the prices charged here. The manufacturers have in this way grown so rich that they buy three or four close Sates in Presidential elections and keep in power the fellows who will give them the tariff laws they want. They are now so powerful that it is a very difficult thing to break their hold but the longer the people let them go the harder the battle will be in the end.

The sole reliance of the Republican party to hold their own vote this year is to cry out that hard times will accompany Bryan's administration. They do not and cannot guarantee that the same will not be true under Taft. The worst panic this country has had, in many respects, is the one that burst forth in its fury in New York on the 28th of October 1907. The country is still suffering and no one can say when it will be over. The Big Sandy News is not a calamity howler, as its leaders know. Its policy is to push along prosperity in every possible way. But we want to advocate the genuine article of prosperity—the kind that is based upon equal privileges to all people, whether they be farmers or manufacturers. No policy that taxes one for the other can ever bring permanent prosperity. Panics will continue to come as a reaction so long as such false foundations exist as provided by the present high tariff laws.

But to return to the first proposition in this article. No man of intelligence and information can be scared by the story that Bryan as President would make times worse than they would be under Taft. The three panics of the last half century have come under Republican administrations. Mr. Cleveland took the 1892 panic off their hands in 1893 and nursed the country back to a healthy condition. The same Mr. Cleveland with less experience, was President from 1885 to 1889 and there was no complaint against the condition of business. He was elected as a Democrat and the country did not go to the dogs. None of these panic manufacturers that will pay tribute to shut down and quit business. The volume of business was greater during that four years than for any like period in the country's history up to that time. People should think of these facts before they swallow a scare-crow.

If three panics have been born under Republican administrations and none under Democratic Presidents, where does the real danger of hard times lie?

Such talk is all bosh and only proves that the G. O. P. is in desperate straits for an effective appeal to the people.

Do not be surprised if a landslide on next Tuesday carries Ohio, New York, Indiana and Illinois for Bryan and Kern.

Will you vote for the party of Panics next Tuesday. Three in 35 years is the record of the Republican party?

3 to 0 is the score. Taft's party, three panics. Bryan's party, none.

James N. Kehoe's father was killed in the Civil War, leaving a widow and six small children among the hills of Lewis county in almost destitute circumstances. They moved to Maysville to get employment and out of the struggles that followed there has developed one of the brainiest, purest, pluckiest and most energetic lawyers and statesmen that the State has produced. We refer to Jim Kehoe. Elect him next Tuesday to serve your interests in Congress.

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not in itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain specific nerve sickness—nothing else.

It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop in the creation of that now very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that success and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had. For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, bad breath and sallow complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend.

PECK'S BAD BOY IN AN AIRSHIP

By HON. GEO. W. PECK

Travels in Side-Door Pullman

(Copyright, 1908, by W. G. Chapman.)

(Copyright in Great Britain.)

There is not much fun in being an orphan until you escape from the orphan asylum, and I want to say that my chum and myself have had two red letter days in the town where we seemed to drop out of a balloon into the hearts of the country people.

They took up a subscription to buy clothes for us, and dressed us up, and we looked as though we had been clothing dummies in front of a clothing store, and then the people got into a quarrel as to who should adopt us.

A farmer drew my chum and wanted him to get acquainted with some mules and drive six mules to haul fertilizer on the farm. My chum had to sit on a saddle on one mule, and drive the other five mules by using one line, which he pulled and hauled to make them gee round grand right and left.

The fat woman adopted me because I was such a dear little thing. She was one of those hay widows, whose husband got plenty of her sauce, and took to the tall timber, and all she wanted to do was to hug me, and tell me that if I had not dropped into her life, out of that balloon, she would several times, and the balloon was doing its best to keep up, when I yelled to the men in the balloon: "Why don't you throw out your anchor?" and they then seemed to recollect about an anchor, and they threw it out, and when it caught fast in the ground the mules pulled loose from the wagon and went through a fence, and started for Texas, and I guess they are going yet. My chum got off all right, except he was so scared he could not stand up. Well, we had a time straightening things out, the farmers wanted to lynch the balloon men, and make them pay for the mules, but in rolling up the balloon to take to the station, to ship to St. Louis, I found a mail bag, and I told the farmers these balloonists were carrying the United States mail, and any man that laid hands on the government mail could be imprisoned for life for treason, and I scared the farmers so they gave the balloonists their dinner, and hauled the balloon to the station with the whole bunch of us, and when the balloonists went away on the train they told my chum and me that if we would come to St. Louis they would give us jobs carrying door of the car, and we were alone in the dark, hungry and thirsty.

We found a part of a bale of hay, and scattered some on the floor and went to sleep, and I never slept better on a spring mattress, but I dreamed of home, and all the fun I had ever had, making it hot for other people, playing tricks on them, but now all was changed, and I felt that I was on my own resources, making my own way in the world, handicapped by always having an easy life.

Along towards daylight in the morning some horses began to paw and whinner and a collie dog began to bark in the car, and some sheep bleated in the car, and as morning came, and a little light came in the car, which was hitting the high places, running at high speed, so it shook us out of our hay bed, we looked around starved and stiff, and sick at heart.

When the train stopped I walked through the car, over bags of oats, and looked at the horses, and wished I was a horse. The dog was a watch dog, and when I got near him he snarled and grabbed a mouthful of my new pants and held on and shook me, and I yelled and got away.

As it grew lighter I saw a box near the dog, and in it were some square things that my practiced eye, as the son of an old hunter, told me were dog biscuit, a sort of petrified dough and meat scraps made for high class dogs that are not allowed to eat scraps from the table, and I told my chum we would have breakfast. It took me half an hour to steal a few dog biscuit away from that dog, and all the time he was trying to make his breakfast off of me, but I finally poked out enough for breakfast, and I called my chum to partake of the repast. He said he always had to have some kind of breakfast food before he ate meat, so I cut into a bag of oats, and gave him a handful, and there we sat and chewed away, trying to imagine that we were happy, and thinking of coffee and pancakes and sausage, and waffles, and biscuit and honey.

It was probably the worst breakfast ever eaten by anybody. The dog biscuits were so hard we had to pound them on the floor with a curry comb, and that did not help the flavor much.

After breakfast we laid down on the hay with a horse blanket over us and slept till noon, when we heard water being poured into the tin trough for the horses, and we quenched our thirst, and ate more dog biscuit, and I hoped that other boys would hear of our distress, and that no boys would ever run away from a happy home again.

My chum and I talked over the depression in the money market, and the panic in Wall street, and tried to think we were better off than millionaires who did not know where the next meal was coming from, and with our stomachs full, and no care on our minds, we wished we could give some of our dog biscuit to the hungry rich.

While we were thinking of the good one can do with a few dog biscuits, there was a terrible crash, the car jumped on the ties and reared up, and finally rolled over and down a bank and all was still as death, except that the boiler of the engine was blowing off steam, and the horses were groaning, and the confounded dog that chewed me was dead.

Men ran over the cars, and chopped with axes, and finally a fire engine began to throw water on the burning cars, my chum and I were wedged under bales of hay, one of my legs was asleep, and we both yelled murder, and finally the fire was out, the side was chopped out of the car, and they took us out and put us in an ambulance and the brakeman who had led us into the car said: "Tickets, please," and the ambulance was driven to a hospital at East St. Louis, and they wanted to amputate us, just for practice. One of the hospital attendants asked me who I was, and when I told him I was "Peck's Bad Boy," traveling for my health, he said: "Well, you are certainly getting what is coming to you," and I guess that is no lie.

Was Consistent.

A customer in a Boston market bought a quarter peck of apples. She watched the dealer closely as he picked out the fruit.

"Either put in another apple or take one out," she said when he had emptied the apples into a bag. "There are 13 there, and I am not going to invite bad luck by carrying home that unlucky number."

The dealer looked up shrewdly. "I can't very well throw in another one for that price," he said. "Apples are high."

"Very well, then, take one out," said the woman. "I make it a point when buying anything in small quantities this way to count the pieces, and never under any circumstances will I accept 13 of anything."

According to instructions the dealer abstracted one of the finest apples in the bag and the woman went away apparently satisfied.

Superstition.

"This is a fine place to study the superstitions of the crowd," said the elevated ticket chopper. "Two-thirds of the couples who pass through the gate are brimming over with superstition. It shows itself in their fear of separating and walking on different sides of the post. Good looking, educated people are afraid of that."

"We'll quarrel," says one—usually it is the woman who says it, or if two women are together they both say it at the same time. "We let that post set between us."

"Then, if they are badly bitten by the bug, one goes back and passes through on the other side, so as to obviate the danger of a flare-up."

"Any Man That Lays Hands on the Government Mail Can Be Imprisoned for Life for Treason."

I have kicked the bucket, and I thought of how any bucket I ever saw would have collapsed, for she had a foot like a fiddle box.

She made me tell her the story of my past life, and when she found I was Peck's Bad Boy, and I thought I had made my story so sanguinary that she would want me to go away, so she could have a quiet life, she just froze to me and said she could see that she had been selected by Providence to take the badness out of me, and she went to work hypnotizing me, and giving me absent treatment on my meals, to take my strength for wickedness away, and then she got me so weak I could not hug back when she squeezed me, and you can imagine the condition a growing boy would be in who could not do his share of the hugging.

The second day of my sentence to be her adopted son, with all my tricks on my head, she let me go out on the farm to visit my chum, and there is where my whole new life changed.

My chum was driving his mules around the farm, and I was riding behind him on the wheel mule, when a balloon from St. Louis came over, and the men in the balloon yelled at us to grab hold of the ropes as they wanted to land in the field. The mules began to act up and my chum couldn't control them, and I jumped off the mule and grabbed the rope and gave it a hitch around the pole of the wagon, and that settled it with the mules. They rolled their fawn like eyes around at the great gas bag that was waving over the wagon, with the two men yelling, and the mules started to run, with the wagon and the balloon, around that field, the balloon striking the fence occasionally, and a tree once in a while, the men yelling for us to cut the rope, and the mules braying and saying mule prayers, and me chasing along to try and cut the rope, and my chum hanging on to the ears of the wheel mule, and the farmers rushing into the field from every direction to stop the mules, and the men in the balloons using the worst language.

The mules had run around the field off balloons, and they would teach us how to fly. Gee, but that was nuts for us. To rise, at once, from being mule drivers and adopted boys, to a place in balloon society, was what we wanted, and my chum and I deserted our more or less happy homes and began to plan to jump a freight train bound for St. Louis.

We laid down on the platform of the station that night and went to sleep and I dreamed that I sailed across the ocean in a balloon, and landed in a park in Paris, and when the populace came to welcome us to dear old France, pa was one of the first to see me, and he fell upon my neck, and when the people were going to give me a reception and a cross of the Legion of Honor, for being the first to cross the ocean in a balloon, pa told them I was his boy and pa wanted to take all the credit for my grand achievement, and when I woke up a watchman at the station kicked us off the platform like we were tramps, and we walked down the tracks and were so mad we wanted to throw stones at the switch lights, and my chum wanted to put a tie on the track to wreck a train, but I persuaded him that it was that kind of revenge that caused the enmity between tramps and the richer class. Then he wanted to set fire to a tank car of kerosene, and if I hadn't been a pretty good citizen there would have been a bon-fire sure, but I showed my chum that we were only temporary tramps, and that in a few days we would achieve success, and own railroads, and that we should show an example of patience, and strive to become members of the four hundred. So we refrained from getting even, and Rockefeller was not kept awake by hearing that another tank car of oil had gone skyward.

We were pretty hungry, but tightened up our belts and pretty soon a freight car stopped on a side track and a brakeman came along with a lantern and I gave him the last half dollar I had and told him we wanted to land in St. Louis, and he looked over us and pointed to a car, and we hustled in and he looked the side

BROTHERS FIGHT DUEL

In The Road Near the Home of

Aged Mother, Where They

Had Quarreled Over Domestic Troubles.

Terra Alta, W. Va., Oct. 23.—

Thomas Nattingly, a well known farmer of near Cranestown, near here, is dead, and his brother James, is dying, as the result of a shot gun duel.

The brothers fought in the road, half a mile from the home of Thomas Nattingly, after some trouble at the home of their mother. Mrs. Nattingly aged 84 years, is said to have had trouble with the wife of James Nattingly since their marriage, and it is asserted that she threw a cup of hot water into her face some time ago. The brothers met at the mother's home and a quarrel ensued. Thomas struck his brother several times with a blackjack and stabbed him with a knife.

Leaving him apparently unconscious on the lawn ran into the house and got a shot gun. The other recovered and went to his own home, where he got a gun and started on the trail of his brother.

As soon as they met they started firing at each other. Thomas fell dead, shot through the heart, and the other was left dying on the roadside. Physicians say that his recovery is impossible.

A Special Rate of $1.25 For The Campaign and Election

For the first time in its history, The Courier-Journal has made a special cut rate on its daily for the campaign. The regular price of the paper is $6 a year or $3 for six months. For the campaign a rate of $1.25 has been made, to apply to orders received during the months of June, July and August. After August 31 the regular rates will be in effect. Subscriptions received during these months at this rate entered on the Courier-Journal mailing list until December 1 next, when all will expire.

Send in your orders at once through this paper. The earlier you get in the more papers you receive.

Henry Watterson has announced that the Courier-Journal will support the Democratic ticket from end to end, and he believes the ticket will win in November.

The Louisville Times edited by Col. W. B. Haldeman, has made the same rate, $1.25, under the same conditions. The Times is the best Democratic afternoon paper printed anywhere.

You can get the Big Sandy News one year and either the Courier-Journal or the Times from now till December 1st, for $2.00—paid in advance.

POLITICAL MATTER.

Interesting Reading About The Campaign
Now On.

Predicts Victory.

It is all over but the shouting. They may pour out the Taft-Santon millions—they may pile up the tainted Trust dollars—they may repeat the villainies of 1896, of 1900 and of 1904—but it will avail them not. The clink of gold cannot deaden the sound of the death-rattle in their throat—all the bonfires from hell to breakfast cannot give a rosy flush to the death pallor that shines upon their cheek—like Belshazzar of old, they read the writing on the wall—caught and caged—and they exclaim, "Woe, woe is me, my sin has found me out at last," and then Belshazzar cries from the bottomless pit, "You bet it has just as mine found me out—misery loves company—both of us were weighed in the balance and found wanting—you are mighty late about it but come along down here and bring old High Tariff and old High Finance along with you—Satan and all of us are preparing for a regular bear dance when you get here. Slow music. Dim lights. Then the blaring aureole of Democracy; and whilst the boys sing "sound the bold anthem, war dogs are howling, proud bird of liberty screams through the air," the spirit drums of Old Hickory beat in unison, and—

The Star-Spangled banner, oh, long may it wave,
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.

—Henry Watterson, in the Courier-Journal.

Foxy, But Fathomable.

United States Senator W. O. Bradley, the "Foxy Grandpa" of the Republican party in Kentucky, was in Maysville Saturday singing a far different song from that which he was warbling over the State following the Fairbanks turn-down last spring. Then Bill freely declared that the Republican party is run by Federal officeholders and that seventy-five per cent. of the negro voters are purchasable.

But Boss Bradley didn't repeat those remarks at the opera house Saturday afternoon—perhaps because he stood face to face with so many of the picneters and because the galleries were a trifle top-heavy with negotiable as set.—Maysville Bulletin.

"Uncle Joe."

Speaker Joe Cannon, of Illinois is having the fight of his life to retain his seat in Congress. The labor unions and the religious bodies are making a determined opposition to his reelection. Here is a brief pen picture of the man who, through the rules of the House of Representatives at Washington, can and does dictate legislation. Rev. J. K. Shields said at the Rock River Methodist Episcopal Conference at Chicago: "What is Joe Cannon? Just a few days ago I met a young lawyer whom we had sent down into the State to talk temperance. He told me that he had met 'Uncle Joe' in a car. I asked him for the impression that Uncle Joe had made. He said: 'Shields, I have heard villainies from the mouths of many men, but the profanity that streamed from the lips of Joe Cannon I never heard equaled.'"

Chairman Mack.

Chairman Mack, of the Democratic National Committee gave out a statement in New York, in which he predicted that Mr. Bryan would receive 261 votes. Chairman Mack said the election would be a veritable landslide in spite of the fact that the Republican party had accumulated a tremendous slush fund. He said he understood that the Republican organization had accumulated $3,000,000, which would be used in several of the debatable States. "But," he said, "they cannot defeat us with $50,000,000." Mr. Mack had a conference with Mr. Bryan on the candidate's private car in Jersey City, and said that while Mr. Bryan understood that the Republican National Committee had vast sums of money, he expressed belief of his election.

President Roosevelt's benevolent proposal to help the farmers by investigating their condition is not well received by the farmers who suggest that if the president would make tariff and trust monopolies get off their backs they could help themselves.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

The Difference.

"I am willing to go down on my knees every morning and say to my Father in heaven: 'Give us this day our daily bread,' but God forbid that I should make my countrymen go down on their knees at morning and say to a trust magnate: 'Give us this day our daily bread,' and have him answer: 'I will if you will vote the ticket I want you to.' You cannot afford to fasten that sort of system on this country or any other country."—W. J. Bryan, in Joliet speech.

Who Are You For?

Republicans who contemplate voting for Mr. Taft may be interested to know some of the company they will be in by so doing.

John D. Rockefeller, head of the Standard Oil Company, and the richest man in the world, is for Taft and against Bryan.

H. H. Rogers of the Standard Oil Company, and the organizer of the "System" is for Taft and against Bryan.

John D. Archbold, vice president of the Standard Oil Company, author of the Foraker and Sibley letters, is for Taft and against Bryan.

John W. Gates, "Bet-You-a-Million-Gates," stock gambler and trust magnate, is for Taft and against Bryan.

J. Pierpont Morgan, promoter of high finance, the greatest power in Wall street is for Taft and against Bryan.

James A. Stillman, president of the National City Bank, the Standard's bank, is for Taft and against Bryan.

Andrew Carnegie, who made $450,000,000 through a high protective tariff, is for Taft and against Bryan.

Charles R. Sheldon, treasurer of the Republican National Committee and director in 20 Wall street corporations, is for Taft and against Bryan.

E. H. Harriman, great railroad magnate, who raised $260,000 for Roosevelt's campaign in 24 hours, in 1904, is for Taft and against Bryan.

J. J. Hill, second greatest railroad magnate in the country, is for Taft and against Bryan.

William Nelson Cromwell, chief counsel for Harriman and gigantic trusts, who gave $550,000 to Taft's campaign, is for Taft and against Bryan.

DENOUNCES CANNON.

Rev. J. W. West, of Louisville,
Bitterly Denounces Speaker
Joseph Cannon.

At a meeting of the Louisville Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, held at Owensboro recently, Rev. J. W. West, of Louisville, who is Superintendent of the Kentucky Anti-Saloon League, said of Speaker Joe Cannon: "A man like Cannon is a disgrace to the American people and unfit to preside over any decent body. But the war is on against him. It is made certain by the determination of honest citizenship that he shall no longer rule as the Czar of the House of Representatives." At the same meeting another thrust was made at W. H. Taft when Miss Tula C. Daniel, corresponding secretary of the conference read her report for the year. She found occasion during her remarks to refer to the influence of missions on civic affairs. "One of the candidates for the Presidency," she said, "says that Christ sleeps in his tomb as other men do; the other candidate has testified to a risen Lord in all countries of the earth."

SPECTACLES.

Conley's Store, Louisa, Ky., carries in stock spectacles of all grades from 25c a pair up. We have nose glasses, riding and temple bow spectacles, rimless and regular styles, steel, aluminum, nickel, gold filled and solid gold frames. We also have the most perfect lenses made.

We can fit any ordinary case of defective vision, and we make no charge for the work of fitting. If your case is at all complicated we will direct you to reliable opticians or oculists who can properly handle the case. It cannot be done in Louisa. A real optician, one who is educated and skilled in optics, one of the most delicate sciences. There are more fakirs in this line than in almost any other business and the damage they do to man's most important faculty and to his pocket-book at the same time is astounding. Beware of the faking ignoramus who claims to be a competent optician.

WANTED.—Success Magazine requires the services of a man in Louisa to look after expiring subscriptions and secure new business by means of special methods unusually effective, position permanent; prefer one with experience, but would consider any applicant with good natural qualifications; salary $150 per day, with commission option. Address with references, R. C. Peacock, Room 102, Success Magazine Bldg., New York.

OUR NEIGHBORS.

The Court of Appeals has affirmed the case of Mullen vs. Hall, Knott county.

Wm. A. Young, aged 44, of Pikeville, secured a marriage license at Huntington to wed Miss Maud Burr, aged 28, of that city.

Frazier Adams has been appointed postmaster at Ives, Knott county, vice Ellen Stewart, resigned.

Vanceburg, Ky., Oct. 23.—At Brushart, in Greenup county, Ishmael and Rufus Green lost their lives yesterday while digging a well by being overcome by gas. The former was married and leaves a widow and six children. The well was only twenty-two feet deep.

The Levisa Lumber Co., of Huntington, W. Va., has incorporated with a capital of $300,000 for the purpose of operating a lumber plant at Pikeville, Ky. Its incorporators are Messrs. Donald Clark, A. E. Bush, T. J. Bryan, E. M. Watts and G. R. Hiffley, all of Huntington.

Beattyville, Ky., Oct. 24.—The Hon. E. A. Crutcher and J. M. McDaniel spoke to an overflow meeting at Clay City last night. The enthusiasm was great and the crowd followed them to Stanton where there was another demonstration today. All indications are that Powell county will increase her majority and that J. J. Davis will be elected to Congress. Mr. Daniel goes to Knox, Magoffin and Morgan to speak next week.

Owingsville, Ky., Oct. 22.—William Coffin, Ewing Willson and Drummer McGee were brought before Judge Lane's court and fined $30 and $25 for killing six rabbits. This is the first time that anyone was ever fined here for violating the game laws.

Jim Willson, of Sharpsburg, this county, was also tried and fined $30 for stealing five potatoes.

Pikeville will soon have direct telephone connections with Whitesburg, Leitcher county, and intermediate points. N. Starkey, manager Eastern Kentucky Home Telephone Co., has the poles erected on this line and will begin stretching the wire soon. Yeager, Baker and Dorson are some of the points through which this line will pass. Adam Ramey is in charge of the construction work.

At Paintsville Mr. and Mrs. Pon Daniel have lost two infant sons by death due to diphtheria. The report has reached here that the claim is made that the outbreak of diphtheria is due to the fact that an excavation was made under the Daniel house and on the former site of a house where fifty years ago diphtheria prevailed for a time. At the time mentioned Marion Preston lost a number of his children on account of diphtheria. The building then occupied by him was torn down and the Daniel building erected on the site a few weeks ago, Mr. Daniel, while making some improvements on his house, had a basement dug and it is the claim of the physicians that the diphtheria germs which had lain dormant for fifty years again made their appearance thus causing the death of the Daniel children. Only two deaths have occurred so far, and it is not thought there will be a further spread of the disease.—Herald

Hyden, Ky., Oct. 26.—William Dixon, County Judge of Leslie county, filed suit in the Leslie Circuit Court for $5,000 damages against H. C. Chappell, editor of the Thousandsticks. The Thousandsicks has for some time been making demands upon the County Judge and the Fiscal Court to get them to make public the financial standing of Leslie county. The suit against Mr. Chappell was caused by an article that appeared in the Thousandsicks on October 22 in which certain statements about the County Judge and the Fiscal Court were made.

Diphtheria and scarlet fever continue to rage in Bath county, there having been a number of deaths from both diseases and a great many more are ill at present. It is thought the diphtheria was started by the burning of leaves that have been raked up as they fell from the trees and burnt in great quantities. Some cases have been saved by the use of antitoxin, but in others it was of no avail.

The disease is usually confined to children, but there have been a number of adults also.

Sam Risner, under indictment in Magoffin county on a murder charge has had his case transferred to the Johnson Circuit Court and the trial will take place at the coming November term.

Late Tuesday afternoon at Kenova, Bob Shelton, day yard master, was run over by a N. and W. yard engine and killed. It seems that Shelton was in the yard giving orders and was watching one train when another ran over him.

Little Venus Buchingham, the daughter of John E. Buchingham, fell one day last week and broke her arm in two places, but we are glad to say she is now getting along nicely.

The case against Orlando Spencer and Angie Spencer, his wife, charged with murder of their infant child, was called for trial today before J. M. Spradling, Magistrate, and was bound over to the grand jury without bail.—Paintsville Herald.

In 1860 James Stafford, the father of George Stafford, sustained the loss of his home and almost upon the same spot where George Stafford and his family lost their lives. Geo. Stafford, then a boy, had a narrow escape from death.

The few charred remains of George Stafford, his wife and three children, victims of the Paintsville holocaust, were buried in one large casket. It is said that the funeral was attended by about 400 people.

MY OWN FAMILY USE PE-RU-NA.

HON. GEORGE W. HONEY.
Hon. George W. Honey, National Chaplain U. V. U., ex-Chaplain Fourth Wisconsin Cavalry, ex-Treasurer State of Wisconsin, and ex-Quartermaster General State of Texas G. A. R., writes from 1700 First St., N. E., Washington, D. C. as follows:

"I cannot too highly recommend your preparation for the relief of catarrhal troubles in their various forms. Some members of my own family have used it with most gratifying results. When other remedies failed, Peruna proved most efficacious and I cheerfully certify to its curative excellence."

Mr. Fred L. Hebard, for nine years a leading photographer of Kansas City, Mo., located at the northeast corner of 12th and Grand Aves., cheerfully gives the following testimony: "It is a proven fact that Peruna will cure catarrh and its grapple, and as a tonic it has no equal. Druggists have tried to make me take something else 'just as good,' but Peruna is good enough for me."

Pe-ru-na in Tablet Form.

For two years Dr. Hartman and his assistants have incessantly labored to create Peruna in tablet form, and their strenuous labors have just been crowned with success. People who object to liquid medicines can now secure Peruna tablets, which represent the solid medicinal ingredients of Peruna.

IT CAN'T BE BEAT.

The best of all teachers is experience. C. M. Harden, of Silver City, North Carolina, says: "I find Ely's Bitters does all that's claimed for it. For stomach, liver and kidney troubles it can't be beat. I have tried it and find it a most excellent medicine." Mr. Harden is right; it's the best of all medicines also for weakness, lame back, and all run down conditions. Best too for chills and malaria. Sold under guarantee at A. M. Hughes drug store, 50c.

Make a note now to get Ely's Cream Balm if you are troubled with nasal catarrh, hay fever or cold in the head. It is purifying and soothing to the sensitive membrane that lines the air-passages. It is made to overcome the disease, not to fool the patient by short, deceptive relief. There is no cocaine or mercury in it. Do not be talked into taking a substitute for Ely's Cream Balm. All druggists sell it. Price 50c. Mailed by Ely Bros., 55 Warren street, New York.
